POINTERS IN POLITICS

German Ministers Hold a Convention and Adopt Resolutions.

A Confidential Circular Sent Out by the Brewers—Logan Spits in the Face of a Southern Crank.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 10.—At a German Ministerial Convention of the Peoria District of the Illinois Congregation of the Evangelical Association, assembled in the Blue Partridge Church, Woodford County, the following resolutions concerning the political issues of the day were unanimously adopted:

"RESOLVED, That although we are strong adherents of temperance principles and earnestly desire the spread of this good and noble cause, we nevertheless consider as highly unwise and impolitic the endeavors to make temperance a political issue, and as the crystallizing force of a third national party temperance is rather a moral problem, concerning which it is the plain duty of every citizen to come to a decision and act accordingly, but which does not belong within the province of party politics, since in this way the desired end can not be attained.

"RESOLVED, That since only the two principal parties remain to choose between, it is an easy matter to determine with which to cast our lot, inasmuch as the political difference between the two is not of as much significance by far as the moral difference between the two Presidential candidates. If party politics only were concerned, we would, of course, find it entirely out of place to make a public declaration of our views, but public morality is the real question at issue, and the sanctity of the family, beside which, as regards the welfare both of Church and State, all other issues sink into insignificance. Can it be a matter of indifference to us whether a candidate is a moral leper, a libertine, or a man of irreproachable character, who is known as a good husband and father, and leads an exemplary family life? How a Christian can give a convicted debauchee his vote for President is certainly an inexplicable mystery. That such a man is a candidate for the highest office is hard enough, but what a vicious and corrupting influence would be exerted, especially upon the youth of our land, if he were actually permitted to occupy the Presidential chair. The Lord in mercy shield our beloved country from such a dire possibility."

A Bad Circular.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The following is a copy of a secret and "confidential" circular issued to all Ohio brewers and distillers. It was received here yesterday and shows what the brewers are doing to defeat General Robinson, who is alleged to be a temperance man:

[Confidential]

"CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30, 1884.

"DEAR SIR—The Brewers Association of Cincinnati, propose that all the brewers in Ohio shall have tickets printed and distributed to customers and friends. The names of the Republican candidates for Secretary of State and of Judge of the Supreme Court shall be changed and in their places substituted the names of the Democratic candidates for the same offices. On the rest of the ticket let every voter follow his own choice. Shortly before election day let us distribute these tickets and the regular Democratic ticket for use on election day.

"If we want to succeed in electing Cleveland over Blaine, the secret ally of the Prohibitionists, we must carry the Democratic ticket in October. By resorting to the same measure the brewers of New York, at the last State election, furnished similar tickets against a Prohibition candidate, and defeated him.

"Very respectfully,

"THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

"Of the Cincinnati Brewers Association.

"Henry Muhlenberg, George Gerke, Emilie Schmitt, Michael Schaller, John Goetz, William Boss, John C. Bruckman."

Spot in His Face.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 10.—On Monday evening while Logan was speaking at Hinton, a small town on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, from the rear platform of a car, a man named Henry West went up in front of him and said: "General Logan, you raised the first rebel flag in Illinois and I want to shake with you."

"Who said I did," asked Logan.

"I don't know who, but I know you did it," was the reply.

"You are a liar," excitedly exclaimed the General, and spat full in the man's upturned face.

The train then moved on, and Logan speaking of the matter to his friends, said he wished he had had his mouth full of tobacco juice that he might have given the fellow the benefit of it.

Mr. Blaine in Ohio.

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 10.—A crowd of five hundred people greeted Blaine when the train arrived at Orrville, Wayne county, at 9:40. Mr. Blaine, when introduced, said: "I was interested principally in stopping here because it gave me an opportunity of seeing my old friend and classmate, Orr, whom I have known nearly forty years. I congratulate you on the zeal I see in the Republican party in Ohio—zeal which must result in success."

"I am especially glad to see zeal in a Congressional District if it is in favor of protection. You will certainly vote for Major McKinley, one of the most able advocates of protection in this country. I take great pleasure in bearing testimony to his value and his worth before his constituents. My voice has become worn with much speaking and I will ask my traveling companion, Judge Tenny, to speak to you." [Applause.]

Three cheers were given as the train left. ORRVILLE, O., Oct. 10.—Mr. Blaine spent the night at the residence of Major McKinley in Canton. When he arose in the morning at 8:30, he felt much relieved and is in excellent spirits. The train left Canton for Columbus at 9.

At Massillon Judge Senney and Moody Boyington joined the party. A few persons were at the depot where the train stopped for a few moments. Brief stops were made at Orrville, Wooster, Loudenville, and Mansfield.

Marshals.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—The United States

Marshal has sworn in about 500 deputies for service on election day. Over 1,000 Democrats have been organized to guard their interests at the polls. If any attempts at fraud are discovered trouble is feared. Republican managers are giving it out that a deal had been made with the Prohibitionists whereby the latter will vote for Robinson if the Supreme Court declares the Scott Law unconstitutional. Republicans endorse the prohibitory amendment scheme. Democrats say it cannot hurt them, for, while 10,000 Prohibitionists may support Robinson, it will drive more than double that number of voters to the Democrats.

A Joint Debate in Texas.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 10.—A large concourse of people of all colors, nationalities, sexes and conditions congregated in front of the temporary State Capitol to-night to hear a discussion between Joseph D. Sayers, Democrat and Judge Rector, Independent Republican candidate for Congress from this (the Tenth) district. Sayers led off with a speech of an hour, in which he defended the position of the Democracy on the tariff. He was carefully listened to and cheered by his friends, but when Judge Rector, a cool, practiced speaker, arose, the audience opened their eyes. Judge Rector argued and defended the principles of protection; seemingly he set many to thinking, and some of Sayers' friends admitted he had met in his opponent a foe more worthy of his steel.

Congressional Convention.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Oct. 10.—In the Thirty-first Congressional Republican Convention session here 470 ballots were taken up to noon, with no prospect of a choice.

SCHOOL BOOK SENSATION.

An Excitement Regarding the Introduction of Books in Schools.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—Quite a sensation was created here by the fact becoming known that a number of the members of the Board of Education were organized to make a fight on the book publishing house of Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co., whose representatives have been trying to get the electric system of books for drawing introduced into the public schools of the city. Charges of bribery and intimidation on the part of the book agents are openly made, and it is stated that members are busily engaged in accumulating evidence that will shatter what is called the school book ring.

On a vote coming up on a preliminary question, those favoring Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co. were found to be in a clear majority, and it is now stated that if the electric system is voted into the schools, application will be made to the court enjoining the Board from making any contract with Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co.

REINTERING RED JACKET.

The Bones of the Old Chief Fixed Up.

BUFFALO, Oct. 10.—Probably the greatest historical event in the history of this city since the visit of General Lafayette and Red Jacket, the celebrated Indian chief in 1825, took place here when the bones of Red Jacket, together with those of five other chiefs were reinterred in Forest Lawn cemetery. Forty Indians, representatives of six nations, participated in the ceremonies. The remains were placed in six handsome cherry caskets, each casket bearing a silver plate with the name of the occupant thereon. Each casket was borne by two Indians from each of six nations. The funeral started from the Historical Society's rooms and proceeded to Forest Lawn. The funeral services were conducted by William C. Bryant. The memorial exercises took place in Music Hall in the evening.

PUGILISTIC POLES.

A Big Fight at a Dance Ends Seriously.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 10.—The Polish settlement was the scene of wild disorder last Wednesday night. A dance was held at John Fring's house in Milton street and beer flowed like water. A party of young roughs arrived on the scene and proceeded to create a disturbance. Fring became angry and attempted to drive them from the house, but one of them, Seth English, picked up a chair and struck him on the head, cutting a long deep gash and felling him senseless to the ground. The Poles and rowdies then engaged in a fierce battle, and many of them retired badly cut and bruised. Several shots were fired, but no one was hit. John Fring, Michael Fring, Fritz Setter and M. Connors were severely injured and required the services of a physician.

An English Conference.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Hon. W. E. Forster presided at the Conference held at Westminster Hall. An alarming state of affairs exists in Bechuanaland, and the action of a strong party of marauding Boers, who recently invaded Stellaland in the interests of humanity, "hauled down the British flag and drove the British representative from Vryburg," was discussed.

Stanley, African explorer, was present and all the speakers made bellicose addresses. Forster asserted that England humored the Boers by giving into them in almost every way in order to avoid war, but limit to the concessions had now been reached and that the policy of intervention pursued by the Government must come to an end and the British supremacy in South Africa upheld. At the conclusion of the speeches resolutions were passed demanding the Government to protect Montsias and other British allies in South Africa from the encroachments of the Boers, and compel the Boers to keep to the terms of the new Transvaal Convention.

A Confirmation.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—General Briere De Lisle has telegraphed the French Government confirming the report announced in a dispatch from Hanoi of an engagement between the French and Chinese in the valley of the Loachuan River. In Tonquin an encounter took place Monday. The Chinese in attempting to execute an offensive movement on the Upper Loachuan River, lost 1,000 men. Captain Deynet, of the French Foreign Legion, was killed, and Lieutenant Battaille was wounded. General Negrier's column has gone up Phulang River to cut off the retreat of the Chinese.

JEALOUSY THE CAUSE

Levi Heilner Kills Two Men and Wants to Die.

Two Farmers Meet an Unexpected Volley from the Bushes and Their Horse Runs Away—Only One Intended.

CATAWISSA, Pa., Oct. 10.—James Casson and Henry Boyer, two farmers, were found lying insensible on the road side about four miles from Roaring Creek. James Harman, a farmer, had caught a runaway horse as it was passing his house, and thinking that the owner might have been thrown out and injured, had driven along the turnpike and discovered the two men. He carried them to his home and summoned a physician.

At 11 o'clock this morning Casson died. He had received a charge of buckshot in his breast which proved fatal. Boyer had his right leg broken and his head was literally riddled with number six shot.

When he became conscious Boyer said that last night he and Casson were driving from Roaring Creek to Orangeville when two shots were fired by some one concealed in the bushes bordering the road. Casson fell back after the first discharge and Boyer was only conscious of the horse running away and of being thrown over a rocky embankment. Boyer died at 3 o'clock.

Suspicious became attached to a young married man named Heilner, aged thirty years, who has had repeated quarrels with Boyer, and has often threatened to kill him, alleging that Boyer has been guilty of undue intimacy with his wife, who is a relative of Boyer. About six months ago he attempted to shoot Boyer, but was prevented by friends of the latter. Heilner was arrested. He stated that he had been at home with his wife all night. His wife stated that he had informed her last night that he would spend the night gunning, and that he was not at home.

Boyer was about thirty-four years old, and had a wife and four children. It is asserted on all sides, and admitted by Mrs. Heilner, that his relations with her were not what they should have been. He had frequently insulted and abused Heilner, and consequently his killing would not have created much ill-feeling were it not for the fact that Casson had also fallen a victim to the husband's jealous rage. Casson was fifty years of age and highly esteemed. He has a family of married children. He had accidentally fallen into Boyer's company last night. Heilner continued to deny his guilt until 4 o'clock, when he confessed that he fired the fatal shot, intending to kill only Boyer. The latter, he said, came to his house yesterday afternoon and taunted him with his wife's infidelity and her love for him. He did not regret killing Boyer, but was sorry for the death of Casson. He says he hopes that he will be hanged for a crime.

MAIL SERVICE TROUBLES.

A Discontinuance of the San Francisco-Australian Mail.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 10.—Advice from Australian colonies by the late mail give important details in relation to the action of the colonies for the maintenance of the postal service to England via San Francisco. The continuance of the service was contingent upon the payment by the United States of one-third of the annual subsidy. Congress adjourned last session without making the appropriations for the subsidy, and the Democratic House struck the Senate clause out of the Postal Bill, which enabled the Postmaster General to contract for the carriage of American mail by sea, whereby payment could have been made on account of the Australian-China-Brazilian mail. The result has been that the Postmaster General of New South Wales has given the necessary three months' notice of discontinuance so far as that colony is concerned, and the contract terminates on its account next month. New Zealand, however, will continue the service, alternating with the direct line to England, in this way securing a fortnightly mail service without reference to Australia.

It is expected, of course that the next Congress will compensate New Zealand for the expense. It has been the persistent policy of the British Government to break down the San Francisco-Australia mail route, and the late Democratic Congress played into the hands of England.

A CONVICT SHOT.

A Bad Negro Tries a Mutiny Act and Will Die.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 10.—Cesar White, a convict in the State prison in this city, refused to work yesterday, and was ordered to go and said he would die first. He caught up a hickory bludgeon, and standing in the middle of a lumber yard, defied the warden and guards. The prison inspectors ordered the warden to try and take White alive, but the convict plied his club so vigorously that this could not be done. Other convicts, who were in the mutiny, weakened and went back to their work, but grew very much excited while they heard White cursing and defying inspectors, warden and guards.

Warden Harris finally ordered the guards to shoot White, which they did, shattering his arm and legs. His arm had to be amputated at the shoulder. White will die. He is a negro Hercules. He served terms in the Alabama and Mississippi prisons and was serving a term here for larceny. He was a leader of the bad convicts in the prison and was always trying to incite them to mutiny. Warden Harris believes the convicts had resolved to mutiny and White had agreed to lead them.

An Englishman Suicides.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 10.—Cecil Yorke, a young Englishman, who has been in this country since 1877, committed suicide at Crested Butte by taking morphine. He was of an excellent family, and for several years was a clerk in the Bank of England. Lately he has acted as book-keeper for the Colorado Coal and Iron Company, at their Crested Butte mines, but for some weeks he was out of work. He married at Crested Butte. No cause is given for his suicide.

Expelled Missionaries.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Three American missionaries who were expelled from Angola have arrived here.

CONDENSED NEWS.

The molders' strike in Newport, Kentucky, ended by the men consenting to return to work at old rates with the discharge of the non-union men.

A DESTRUCTIVE storm passed over Central Pennsylvania. Its width was a half mile and it carried away trees and bridges, and demolished houses.

The safes of Nobles & Sons and Tomlinson & Sons, Perry, N. Y., were blown open and robbed of $21,000 of Arkansas State bonds and other securities.

J. F. HITE, horse dealer, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, left home suddenly taking, with him a young married woman and $9,000 cash, and leaving about $9,000 in debts behind.

A FREIGHT train and an engine collided on the Union Pacific at Elkhorn Cut, Nebraska. The engineer and fireman of the freight were killed, and the fireman of the engine had both legs cut off.

THE Swift Iron and Steel Company, of Cincinnati, employing fifteen hundred men, have ordered their mills closed until the result of the Ohio election is determined, the resumption to depend upon the event of Republican success.

MR. BLAINE journeyed from Canton to Massillon Wednesday. The parade and meeting at Massillon were phenomenal in size and enthusiasm. Senators Hawley and Windom were present.

THE strike of Pittsburg stove-molders has been declared off, and all who can get work will return at the fifteen per cent. reduction. Manufacturers will treat with the men as individuals, but not as members of unions.

A New Line of Steamers.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 10.—A short time since the president of a Japanese Steamship Company laid a proposition before the Dominion Government for placing a line of steamers on the route between China, Japan and British Columbia, on the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Sir John MacDonald handed the proposal over to the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who has now left for England to complete arrangements if possible. It is understood that at the next session the Dominion Parliament will be asked to vote a subsidy for such a line of communication, which it is believed will be of great benefit to Canada. It is probable that the $50,000 yearly subsidy voted for several years to establish direct steam communication between Canada and Brazil will be dropped, and instead a similar amount voted for the line between British Columbia and China, the Brazilian line having proved a failure.

Rowder Explosion.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 10.—At Idaho Springs yesterday the men of the Kitty Clyde Mine had been drilling and preparing for blasts, and Emil Dosenbach and his partner, named Hermes, were warning seven sticks of giant powder for the charges by holding them over a fire. Dosenbach allowed one of the sticks to ignite and an explosion followed, which tore one hand from his wrist and badly shattered his arm, so that amputation at the elbow was necessary, and wrenched three fingers from his remaining hand. He is otherwise injured, and his recovery is by no means certain. Hermes was badly burned, but his injuries are not serious.

Woodenware Association.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—The Western Woodenware Association, the members of which have been in conference in this city for two days has been dissolved. There has been a market for only about fifty per cent. of the woodenware manufactured during the past year and the manufacturers feel themselves in a tight place. To add to their troubles five new manufactories have been started. It will probably be decided whether a new protective association shall be formed and these new manufacturers taken into it, or whether each manufacturer shall be left to operate independently.

A Bold Stage Robber.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 10.—Tuesday at the town of Huntington, Oregon, Thomas Ryan, a notorious stage robber, was captured. Ryan was concerned in several recent bold robberies. Alone and single-handed he robbed a stage a few days ago near Weiser, Idaho. He covered the driver and passengers with a shotgun, compelled the former to throw out the treasure box, and then drove away. Officers have been on his trail for some time.

An Enthusiastic Foreigner.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Pascel Cros, one of three Marseilles workmen sent by his fellows to report on the condition of laborers in the United States, who were detained in Paris on account of cholera quarantine, managed to get through, and has arrived here. He is a very young man, full of enthusiasm, and desires to raise wages all over the country. He will be here about a month.

The Nile Expedition.

WADYHALFA, Oct. 10.—General Lord Wolsey has reviewed the troops who are to take part in the Nile expedition. The Mounted Infantry managed their camels perfectly. The first batch of rowboats succeeded in passing the first cataract easily, against a strong current. A heavy division of the camel corps are camping at the Pyramids until ordered to advance.

United Ireland Talks.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—The United Ireland, in an editorial reviewing the administration of Earl Spencer, says that if Queen Victoria had committed Earl Spencer's crimes against liberty her crowned head would roll into a basket. It urges patriotic Irish-Americans to come over and stump Ireland in the interest of the National party in the coming general elections of members of Parliament.

The French in China.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 10.—The French fleet ceased bombarding Tamsin, have completely raised all the forts and earth works in the vicinity and compelled the Chinese troops to retire. All foreign residents in the city escaped injury, but houses were badly wrecked.

Spontaneous Combustion.

CANTON, Miss., Oct. 10.—A singular case of spontaneous combustion occurred here to-day at noon. A barrel of whisky exploded in the saloon of William O. Hargen and ignited. The room was enveloped in flames but no serious damage was done. There was no light or fire in the room prior to the explosion.
